

The 30th Forum for Behavioral Science in Family Medicine

This document provides instructions on how to complete an online submission for the 30th Forum for Behavioral Science in Family Medicine. Included are the general instructions and copies of the online forms.

Category: Interactive Poster Session

Purpose: Present results of research efforts or project through a poster and brief oral presentation. Following all presentations, authors will have opportunity to interact with audience at their poster.

Time: Brief oral presentation during a one hour group poster session.

This is an example only. Read through this file to see what information you must provide when submitting your presentation online.

If you have any questions, please contact Larry Peery, 800-274-2237, ext 5405, or email lpeery@stfm.org.

General Instructions

The first several web pages that you fill in are the same for all submission categories. When using the online submission application, please remember the following:

1. Each screen of the online submission process must be completed within 20 minutes of loading that web page. If you do not complete entering your data for that page within 20 minutes, you may “time out.” If you time out, you will have to start over.
2. You will need to know the full name, mailing address, phone number, and email for each additional presenter. If the additional presenter is a member of STFM our system will pre-fill-in his/her information for you.
3. Titles may be a maximum of 15 words and 255 characters (including spaces). Abstracts may be a maximum of 250 words. Please note that some words that contain a hyphen or apostrophe will be counted as two words. There is a 1,500 character limit (including spaces, roughly 250-300 words) for each multi-line field in the detailed proposal portion of the submission.
4. FORUM reviewers receive proposals without any identifying information regarding authors, affiliations or locations. Please remove identifying information from your abstracts and session descriptions.
5. We recommend you copy and paste your abstract and other lengthy information from another program such as Microsoft Word. If you do copy and paste, remember that formatting commands (table, bold, paragraph indent, auto numbering, etc) and symbols (for example \sum \leq) are not transferred. The best approach is to save your information as plain text, edit it for appearance and then copy and paste the plain text into our online submission fields.

6. After you've completed all the fields on these web pages, we will send a confirmation email to the email address provided for the principal presenter. If the principal presenter does NOT receive a confirming email within 24 hours, we have NOT successfully recorded the submission. If the principal presenter does NOT receive a confirming email, please contact Larry Peery, 800-274-2237 ext 5405, or email lpeery@stfm.org.
7. Check your input carefully. We do not modify, edit, spell check or otherwise change your input prior to sending your submission to our reviewers. If you notice something significant that must be changed after you have completed the submission process, please contact Larry Peery.
8. All presenters should be available to present during all dates of the conference.
9. Submissions must be entered on-line at www.stfm.org/forum no later than March 9, 2009.
10. Proposals should use language that is listener sensitive, including gender neutral terms and avoidance of expressions are degrading.
11. All presenters will be required to register for the conference and pay the applicable registration fee. Please advise co-presenters of this policy.
12. One data projector and laptop computer will be provided for each meeting room. Presenters should bring their presentation to the meeting on either a flash drive or CD-ROM.
13. You cannot save your submission during the online process. Your submission is not saved until you complete the last step. If you do not complete all the steps, you must start over. You cannot edit your submission after we save it to our database. If you notice something significant that must be changed please contact Larry Peery, lpeery@stfm.org.

The following forms are the ones you will have to complete online.
