

Annual Spring Conference 2011
Call for Papers
Scholarly Topic Roundtable Discussion Submission Requirements

This document provides instructions on how to complete an online submission for the 2011 Annual Spring Conference. Included are the general instructions, copies of the online forms, and review criteria for the category.

Category General Instruction:

Description: A 50-minute roundtable breakfast discussion for 10-12 participants about ideas, experiences, or projects that are pertinent to family medicine education, clinical care, research, or management.

Requirements: A 125-word abstract and a narrative organized as follows:

- a) Statement of the problem, topic or issue to be addressed,
- b) rationale,
- c) value to family medicine, and
- d) if applicable, methods, design, measures, data, outcomes, or implications.

Time: 50 minutes (including breakfast)

This is an example only. Read through this file to see what information you must provide when submitting your presentation on-line.

If you have any questions, please contact Ray Rosetta, 1-800-274-7928, ext 5412, or email rosetta@stfm.org.

The first several web pages that you fill in are the same for all submission categories. When using the online submission application, please remember the following:

1. If the lead presenter is NOT a current STFM member, there will be a $25 charge for submitting to the conference. This fee covers the administrative costs of processing the submission and maintaining our online submission program. STFM members may submit to the conference for free.
2. Each screen of the online submission process must be completed within 20 minutes of loading that web page. If you do not complete entering your data for that page within 20 minutes, you may “time out.” If you time out, you will have to start over.
3. You will need to know the full name, mailing address, phone number, and email for each additional presenter or author. If the additional presenter is a member of STFM our system will pre-fill-in his/her information for you.
4. You will need to know a brief biographical sketch for the main presenter. The bio sketch includes: Degree Granting Institution; Residency/Fellowship; Licensure/Certification (eg Social Worker, Psychologist); State/Province where licensed.

5. Titles may be a maximum of 15 words and 255 characters (including spaces). Abstracts may be a maximum of 125 words. Please note that some words that contain a hyphen or apostrophe will be counted as two words. There is a 5000 character limit (including spaces, roughly 800 words) for each multi-line field in the detailed proposal portion of the submission.
6. STFM recommends you copy and paste your abstract and other lengthy information from another program such as Microsoft Word. If you do copy and paste, remember that formatting commands (table, bold, paragraph indent, auto numbering, etc) and symbols (for example Σ , \leq) are not transferred. The best approach is to save your information as plain text, edit it for appearance and then copy and paste the plain text into our online submission fields.
7. After you completed all the fields on these web pages, STFM will send a confirmation email to the email address provided for the principal presenter. If the principal presenter does NOT receive a confirming email within 24 hours, STFM has NOT successfully recorded the submission. If the principal presenter does NOT receive a confirming email, please contact Ray Rosetta.
8. Check your input carefully. We do not modify, edit, spell check or otherwise change your input prior to sending your submission to our reviewers. If you notice something significant that must be changed after you have completed the submission process, please contact Ray Rosetta.
9. As part of the submission process, you will complete our online presenter disclosure form. If your submission is accepted, we will contact your additional presenters to have them also complete the online presenter disclosure form.
10. All presenters should be available to present during all dates of the conference.
11. Submissions must be entered on-line at www.stfm.org no later than September 13, 2010.
12. Presenters are limited to a maximum of three submissions to increase the number of individuals able to participate in the conference. Do not submit the same proposal for different session formats.
13. At least three STFM Committee members will review each submission. The number of submissions accepted is determined by quality, duplication of topic, and meeting space availability. All presentations will be evaluated on the following criteria:
 - Originality
 - Quality and clarity
 - Organization (including timeline and objectives)
 - Appropriateness to category
 - Relevance to family medicine education
 - Creativity of presentation
 - Project track record (duration and evaluation)

- Successful implementation

14. Proposals should use language that is listener sensitive, including gender neutral terms and avoidance of expressions that degrade participants and/or patients and families.

15. All presenters will be required to register for the conference and pay the applicable registration fee. Please advise co-presenters of this policy.
